

Cucumber Nutritional Value:

Cucumbers are 95% water and contain small amounts of vitamins A, C and few minerals. They are surprisingly rich in vitamin E. A light and cooling vegetable, it helps us replenish the fluids and minerals lost in our perspiration, leaving us “cool as a cucumber”.